SHOT DOWN LIKE DOG

Young Railroad Man Fatally Wounded Yesterday.

At Greenwood, Miss.—A Failure at Dyersburg Yesterday.

DEATH AT CLARKSVILLE, TENN

Greenwood, Miss., Dec. 4.—J. T. Gammon of Tuscaloosa, Ala., arrived in Greenwood and approached Pete Hearn, checking clerk at the Southern depot and after asking if his name was Hearn and receiving an affirmative answer, drew a pistol and deliberately shot him twice, one ball entering the shoulder and the other his back, inflicting wounds that will no doubt prove fatal.

Gammon immediately surrendered and is now in jail. Hearn was placed aboard the eastbound train and taken to his home at Columbus, Miss.

Gammon claims that Hearn insulted his wife at Columbus some months ago and that he has been trying to locate and kill him ever since. Gammon is a railroad section foreman. Hearn has been employed as checking clerk at the Southern depot for the past few months.

Columbus, Miss., Dec. 4.—Pete Hearn, who was shot at Greenwood, is thought to be mortally wounded. His dying declaration was taken and in it he says he never saw the man who shot him before the shooting, did not know him nor any member of his family.

FAILURE AT DYERSBURG. Dyersburg, Tenn., Dec. 4.—The Tennessee Cotton company, an incorporated institution of Dyersburg, chartered for the purpose of doing a general business in the buying and selling of baled cotton, is defunct. A general creditors' bill was filed in the chancery court at this place today by Carroll, McKellar, Bullington & Higgs, showing that the company had become insolvent, with liabilities amounting to some $40,000, while the assets were some $30,000, and praying for a receiver for the defunct company.

The directory of the defunct corporation was composed of J. W. Knight of Decatur, Ala.; E. B. Hulsey, V. P. Randolph and B. H. Moorhead of Memphis and H. A. Sugg and J. P. Sugg of Dyersburg. It is thought that the liabilities of the company may foot up much more than at present appears.

KILLED BY HEADACHE MEDICINE. Clarksville, Tenn., Dec. 4.—City Judge Charles Henry Bailey of Clarksville, died suddenly from heart failure Mr. Bailey has been in bad health for some time and took a large dose of headache medicine. He soon became unconscious, heart failure and death following. He was 56 years of age. Leaves a wife and four children; was a K. of P., Odd Fellow, Elk, Presbyterian and Confederate veteran. Only $12,000 Found in Dowie's Banks —Death of Former Speaker Springer.

NEWS ITEMS BRIEFLY TOLD

Chicago, Dec. 4.—John Alexander Dowie will be put on the witness stand before Bankruptcy Referee Sidney C. Eastman, and under oath will be required to answer all questions regarding the financial affairs of Zion City. While the date for the hearing has not yet been set, Judge Kohlsaat entered the order which requires the overseer of the Christian Catholic church to submit to an examination. This action was taken on motion of Attorney Samuel Ettelson, who filed the original petition in bankruptcy against Dowie.

Receivers Blunt and Currie spent most of the day at Zion City looking into all accounts which they could find, so that they might prepare the report which Judge Kohlsaat has asked for concerning the advisability in the interest of creditors of continuing the operation of all industries belonging to Dowie. The receivers, it was said tonight, have found only about $12,000 in both of Dowie's banks.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT

For an Increase in the Paducah Fire Department.

Secretary Nelson Calls on the Mayor and Meeting is Satisfactory.

MAYOR FAVORS WHAT'S RIGHT

Mr. W. C. Nelson, of Louisville, secretary of the Kentucky and Tennessee board of underwriters, called on Mayor D. A. Yeiser at the city hall this morning, accompanied by Mr. O. C. Rose, and conferred with him relative to an increase in the Paducah fire department. The meeting was satisfactory to both sides, Mayor Yeiser assuring Secretary Nelson that he would put before the general council any recommendations he may care to make in regard to the city's fire protection. This seems to be all that Mr. Nelson asks, and he has found only uniform courtesy and consideration everywhere he has gone while in Paducah.

The prospects for increasing Paducah's fire department and extending her facilities by establishing another station on the North Side, now seem to be good. Mayor Yeiser stated today that he is in favor of whatever is necessary to give the people what they need.

Mayor Yeiser stated further that he thought Paducah has outgrown her fire department, and is in favor of an increase if it is necessary, and talks as if he is satisfied it is necessary, and will use his influence towards securing more men, another department and additional machines.

Mr. Nelson states that the water supply in Paducah is excellent, and that our fire departments are as good as can be found anywhere, but are too small. This was clearly shown at the fire not long ago which for a time threatened Paducah's business center. Men are needed to man the aerial truck, for one thing and a hook and ladder truck, for another.

A LARGE CORN CROP

Second Largest This Year in Country's History

Some Very Interesting Statistics From Agricultural Department.

PRESENT CROP VALUES

This country will this year produce the second largest corn crop in its history. What promised to turn out a poor crop on account of flood damage, etc., is now seen to be a good one, being in the aggregate 2,313,000,000 bushels. As to its value, that will be the subject of official estimate before long, it being taken at farm prices as of December 1, and reported by the Department of Agriculture. The following are totals showing both crops and values for the various years, also five-year averages, which will be found useful for comparison:

	Crop.	Farm.
	Bushels.	Value.
1893	1,619,496,000	$591,626,000
1894	1,212,770,000	$584,719,000
1895	2,151,138,000	$44,986,000
1896	2,283,875,000	$91,007,000
1897	1,802,968,000	$501,073,000
Av. 5 yrs:	1,834,049,000	$536,682,000
1898	1,924,184,000	$552,023,000
1899	2,078,144,000	$529,210,000
1900	2,105,103,000	$51,220,000
1901	1,522,520,000	$21,556,000
1902	2,523,618,000	$1,017,017,000
1903	2,313,000,000

Av. 5 yr: 2,032,720,000 $772,205,000

The average yield for 1903 turns out to be as much as 25.8 bushels to the acre, a decrease of only 1 bushel from 1902 average and nearly 2 bushels above the average for ten years. Evidently, therefore, the season has been a favorable one, much more so than it promised to be. Hence the reason for much of the favorable opinion expressed on the part of the prominent railroad officials regarding the outlook, to say nothing of the sustained influence upon traffic and earnings which has already been exerted by the realization of a corn crop of such important size and value.

Figuring on the value of the crop at its present market price—42¢—the total is $971,460,000. This is in excess of the value of any previous crop, with the exception of last year.

CHRISTMAS BUSINESS

Present Indications are That it Will be Very Heavy.

The Largest Business in the City's History is Expected.

SOME INTERESTING INTERVIEWS

Christmas shopping has started early this year, and from the present indications give promise of being the largest in the history of the city. It starts earlier each year as the people have realized that they can shop more satisfactorily if they get at it early and some merchants reported a good deal of Christmas buying weeks ago. Besides being better for the shoppers the merchants are pleased with the early buying as it takes just that much off from the rush days that come the week before the holidays.

Interviews with the largest merchants in the city show that the Christmas trade is expected to be the largest they have ever had. People too are buying a good deal better grade of things than has heretofore been the case. As one merchant said "this only goes to show the great prosperity of Paducah people. Our factories and other industries have been working steadily for three or four years dispensing big sums in pay rolls each week and as a result there is a lot of money in Paducah. Our trade this year is 30 per cent greater than it was last year and then we thought we had done a big business."

When asked to what he attributed the big increase in his business the past few years this man replied:

Well, we have gone in more extensively on advertising than we ever did before. We have recognized the fact that advertising is essential in these days. It is the great motive power of business and the man who does not use it will surely drop behind more and more until he is out of mind—and sight. We have evidence of this every day. It is true advertising is a study. A man must know what he is doing. But my advice to every merchant, big and little, is ADVERTISE."

Most every merchant interviewed by The Sun reports increases in business of 15 to 30 per cent over a year ago which certainly is a fine indication of the prosperity of Paducah and surrounding country.

NO CONTEST

MR. JOHNSON NOW STATES POSITIVELY THAT THERE WILL BE NONE.

It is announced again for the 'steenth time that Captain M. W. Johnson will file no contest for the office of city treasurer, to which Mr. J. J. Dorian was elected in November. Unless there is some more explicit law than Section 79 of the Kentucky election law, the time for filing the contest expired ten days after the election commissioner completed their work of canvassing the returns, which was nearly three weeks ago. There was never any intention of contesting the election of Colonel Dorian.

A "FOOLISH HOUSE"

Will be Asked for Deranged Criminals.

Louisville Commercial Club has the Project Under Way.

The establishment of a state asylum for the accommodation of deranged criminals and other defective persons has been undertaken by the Louisville Commercial Club. The Board of Directors met and instructed President D. P. Curry to appoint a committee of five members to present the subject to the Legislature in January and to ask for an appropriation for erecting a suitable building and equipping it for the use to which it will be applied. The plans of the Commercial Club are ambitious, and contemplate making provision for all persons who come into the custody of the state and are unfit for penal servitude or confinement. President Curry was selected as chairman of the committee which will be appointed to push the matter, and he will select the other members in a few days. They will begin at once to formulate the details of the undertaking and will determine the amount of the appropriation which will be asked for the institution.

It is the consensus of opinion that the state should be asked to make provision for all defectives. The matter will be placed before the Legislature in a substantial way by the Commercial Club Committee, and it is proposed to secure an appropriation for the building and funds for its support.

BOWLING GREEN

KNOCKS FOR ADMISSION INTO THE K. I. T. LEAGUE.

Bowling Green has forwarded to President Irvin Thompson, of the K. I. T. league, an application for admission into the league, but probably no action will be taken until the meeting here January 10. It is very probable that Paducah will not get into any of the larger leagues next season and will have to be content in the K. I. T. league. Some of the baseball men want a meeting held before January 10 while others do not. It is not known whether one will be called before that time or not. Vice President Gorman, of the Jackson, Tenn., team, wants a meeting this month, but none of the other officers seem to want one.

IT RAINED BLOOD.

Rome, Dec. 4.—The phenomenon known as the "rain of blood" was noticed near Salerno during the fearful weather of the past few days, the rain drops being so red as to leave stain resembling blood. This phenomenon is said to come from Sahara after a severe sandstorm. Not understanding the reason of it, the peasants in the neighborhood were very much frightened.

—Gertrude Wood, colored, was arrested for a breach of ordinance and recognized to appear tomorrow morning before Judge D. L. Santer.

ALLEGED TRUST

FEDERAL PROSECUTION AGAINST GROCERS OF ENNIS, TEXAS.

Waxahachie, Texas, Dec. 4.—Attorney General O. K. Bell, of Texas, has filed a suit against the retail grocery dealers of Ennis on alleged charges of violating the anti-trust law of the state and to recover the penal sum of $500 a day from each defendant from the first day of last April to the present time. The plaintiff's petition charges that the defendants on that date entered into an agreement to fix and maintain the price at which their goods were to be sold, and that such an agreement is in direct violation of the laws of the state. The defendants are also charged with threatening to boycott the Modern milling company, of Waxahachie and the Midlothian, if they should sell flour to W. D. Arden, of Ennis. The petition also asked for an injunction restraining the defendants from a further interference with the free trade and commerce of the state. The injunction was granted by District Judge Dillard. The aggregate penalties sought to be recovered by the state amount to more than $160,000.

CATARRH A COMMON COMPLAINT.

Catarrh begins with a stubborn cold in the head, inflammation or soreness of the membrane or lining of the nose, discharge of mucus matter, headaches, neuralgia and difficult breathing, and even in this early stage is almost intolerable. But when the filthy secretions begin to drop back into the throat and stomach, and the blood becomes polluted and the system contaminated by the catarrhal poison, then the sufferer begins to realize what a disgusting and sickening disease Catarrh is. It affects the kidneys and stomach as well as other parts of the body. It is a constitutional disease and as inhaling mixtures, salves, ointments, etc., are never more than palliative or helpful, even in the beginning of Catarrh, what can you expect from such treatment when it becomes chronic and the whole system affected? Only such a remedy as S. S. S. can reach this obstinate, deep-seated disease and purge the blood of the catarrhal poison. S. S. S. purifies and builds up the diseased blood, and the inflamed membranes are healed and the excessive secretion of mucus ceases when new, rich blood is coming to the diseased parts, and a permanent cure is the result.

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and a reliable remedy for Catarrh in all stages. Write if in need of medical advice; this will cost you nothing.

CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. SUE ON BILLS OF EXCHANGE.

Owensboro, Ky., Dec. 4.—State auditor's agent has filed two suits against two local banks for alleged back taxes on bills of exchange and notes aggregating $950,000. One suit was against the National Deposit bank, claiming that on September 15, during the last four years, the bank has owned bills of exchange and notes to the amount of $700,000, and that no state or county taxes were paid on them. The other suit is against the First National bank claiming that it has held $250,000 worth of notes and bills of exchange free from taxation during the last four years. If the state and county win the suits, the banks will be called upon for about $80,000.

This is the first action of the kind ever known in Kentucky and is in the nature of a test case. The banks have never been taxed on bills of exchange or notes.

MARRIED AT HICKMAN.

Hickman, Ky., Dec. 4.—Miss Elizabeth Case, daughter of E. E. Case, a prominent grocer, was married to Perry Selby, of St. Louis, by Rev. O. L. Price.

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," an old saying meaning that to win a man you must feed him well.

If this is not true, it is still true in another sense that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Many persons imagine that they have heart disease when it is only indigestion.

This is how it comes about. The stomach distended by gas, crowds the heart and gives the feeling that the trouble is in the heart.

If you don't know that you have heart trouble, try using Walther's Peptonized Port and see if it does not relieve you.

DAILY THOUGHT.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Saturday.

IN BLOODY BREATHITT.

A committee of "prominent citizens" from Breathitt county called on the Governor Wednesday to protest against the withdrawal of troops from Jackson. In other words, they want the taxpayers of the state to put up money indefinitely for enforcing peace in the bloody feud-country. Strange to say, some of those same virtuous men who have by innuendo, if not by expressed charges, been blamed for the demoralization in Jackson, are now the most active individuals in the pious effort to keep the soldiers there.

If the civil authorities cannot enforce the laws and preserve order, as their duties require, they should resign or be impeached, and allow the people to elect men who can and will. Then if the people do not elect men who can and will give them peace and protection the people alone are responsible, and must take the consequences of their mistake. The people of Kentucky have been humiliated and disgraced long enough by the lawless people of Breathitt, and while as a whole the people of the state desire peace, if the blood thirsty denizens of Breathitt are not to be satisfied except when killing one another, there seems to be no plausible reason why the rest of the state should longer interfere. At any rate, the state has done all possible to reform the belligerent community, and can hardly be expected to keep a standing army there always. Gov. Beckham is reported to have said to the committee that called upon him and asked that the troops remain:

"I feel that it is my duty to refuse to rescind the order. The troops must leave Jackson tomorrow. I cannot afford to place such a burden upon the people as the maintenance of an armed guard would require. The civil authorities should be able to control the situation now that the soldiers have been there. The sending of troops there has already imposed a heavy obligation upon the people of the state. When the troops were first ordered there the conditions warranted it, but that condition no longer prevails. I will not rescind my order."

Possibly if it were ascertained who is reaping the benefits arising from the money paid the soldiers and expended to feed them, the real reason some of the "prominent citizens" are so unwilling to see the troops

BETTER FIRE PROTECTION.

The proposed increase in the fire department would entail an additional expense of over $6,000 a year in salaries alone. Paducah probably needs the additional men and machines, however, and it is likely if other appropriations were shaved down as they can be, the additional cost of better fire protection would not be felt by the taxpayers. Every property owner will be indirectly benefitted by a larger fire department in the reduction of insurance rates, as well as in protection from fire.

The people do not desire any unnecessary burdens, but if Paducah needs more firemen and another station, she should have them without delay. The question of being able to stand the expense is a secondary consideration.

Paducah has taken charge of the public library. If the administration expects to get the benefit of it, it must be kept out of politics. The trustees appointed by the mayor should not be persons who will see that the $3,500 a year or more the city is to contribute towards the support of the institution, goes to friends of the administration without regard to their ability for the positions they are chosen to fill. It can be pretty well determined how the people are to fare on this score when the mayor appoints his permanent library board.

Judging from some of the expressions heard in Paducah a number of people are beginning to fear "graft." Too bad they didn't fear it before election. Yes, there will probably be "graft," but just what form it will take remains to be seen.

Some crank at St. Louis suggests that guests to the World's Fair all wear badges in order that people can see from what section of the country they hail. They had better wear balls and chains to prevent thieves from stealing them bodily.

A number of excursions have been arranged for the club as follows through the kindness of the various managers of the concerns: A visit to and demonstration of the Topler-Helz electrical x-ray machine at the office of Dr. W. C. Eubanks; second, a visit to the plant of the Peoples' Independent Telephone company; third, a visit to the plant of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company; fourth, a visit to the plant of the Paducah City Railway company. This is but one of a number of clubs that will be organized by the boys' department this winter.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Life Crushed out of Him by the Cars—Lived Only a Short time.

INQUEST HELD THIS MORNING.

William R. Perpoli, an I. C. watchman, of No. 8 Huntington Row, met a horrible death yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock under the wheels of a switch engine. His foot was caught in a switch frog and he was run down unable to move to make his predicament known to the engineer.

Perpoli was regularly employed by the I. C. as a car repairer but was laid off several weeks ago when the cut in forces was made at the shops. He applied for a position as switchman, not desiring to leave Paducah, and was assigned to engine number 289 under Foreman Kelley Charleston. He had been working on the engine since and yesterday afternoon was switching near the I. C. depot, at the N. O. & St. L. railroad crossing, got his foot in a switch frog and he was run down, pushing a line of cars ran him down.

Perpoli was directly in the way of the cars and was hidden from the view of the trainmen on the engine and nobody stood by to signal a warning to the engineman. The unfortunate switchman was struck and after his body had been horribly mangled by the wheels of the cars, was torn loose from the track and dragged fifty feet before the accident was discovered and the engine stopped. Willing hands went to the dying man and carried him to the baggage room of the depot where surgeons were summoned but they were powerless to render relief, the switchman dying before anything could be done for him. He died at 5:30.

His body was mangled so badly that a hand had to be cut off in order that the physicians could get his clothes off to dress the wounds. The right foot and arm were taken off by the wheels and the body crushed and mangled from the hips down. After death Undertakers Nance and Spaulding were summoned and took the body to their shop to prepare it for burial.

Perpoli leaves a wife and three children and came here from Memphis, where the remains will be shipped for burial. He is a brother-in-law of Engineer John McGuire and was a regular member of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, under whose auspices he will be buried.

THE TROOPS

THEY ARE SCHEDULED TO LEAVE PADUCAH DEC. 8.

Captain James Caldwell, of Co. I, K. S. G., has received instructions as to the movement of his company on the occasion of the governor's inauguration.

The company is scheduled to leave here at 1:48 a. m. on the morning of December 8, arriving at Louisville at 7:30, and at Frankfort at 9:30 a. m. This will give them only an hour in Frankfort before the inaugural parade forms, and Captain Caldwell is afraid that should the train be late out of here, as it often is, it will throw the Paducah company into Louisville too late to catch the I. and N. train for Frankfort for permission to leave here at noon December 7 instead of at 1 o'clock at night, and is waiting for a reply.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

It Was Formally Transferred to the City.

Mayor Yeiser Delivers a Speech and Says He will Appoint New Board Next Week.

MANY INSPECT BUILDING

The Carnegie public library was last night formally presented to the city by the board of library trustees, Rev. G. W. Perryman, Hon. James M. Lang, Harry Savage, Charles Weille and Ed P. Noble. Mayor D. A. Yeiser as representative of the city, accepted the building in a speech pronounced by many to be the best, if not the only speech he ever made in his life.

There was quite a crowd present at the building both before, during and after the ceremonies. The library board first held a business meeting, winding up its affairs, and signing up a report showing that the total cost of the library as it stands was $36,174, and that there is at present $23.50 in the treasury. All the trustees were present except Secretary James M. Lang, who was unable to get out. Mr. Lang was out a while yesterday for the first time since he was hurt in the fire several weeks ago, but he found he was not quite strong enough, and had to return home.

Rev. G. W. Perryman, president of the board, made the presentation speech in behalf of the trustees, giving briefly an account of the library project from its inception until the present time.

Mayor Yeiser in accepting on behalf of the city, said he would report to the general council the completion of the building and the transfer of it to the city, and would also then announce the members of the permanent board. He complimented the trustees very highly, and said the building was a credit to the city.

The ceremonies being over the crowd was permitted to inspect the building, and many saw it for the first time. The city officials present seemed to enjoy the occasion very much and hundreds of people dropped in during the evening to look over the new structure.

Among those present were Mrs. John A. Miller, of Cairo, formerly of Paducah, who is a member of the Cairo board of library trustees, and has just returned from an extensive trip abroad, and Mrs. Powell, librarian of the Cairo institution.

Mayor Yeiser has not yet announced the members of his new library board. It is understood, however, that four of the present library board will be appointed on the permanent board, and Mrs. James Weille and Mrs. A. R. Meyers are prominently mentioned as the ladies to be appointed on the board. Both are ladies of refinement and culture, and would be of great assistance in keeping the library up to the proper standard.

The complete report of Mr. James M. Lang, secretary and treasurer of the library board, shows every dollar accounted for and a balance of $23.51 was turned over with the report.

The receipts came in installments of $5,000. The principal expenditures are as follows: A. L. Lassiter, architect, $1,500; Contractor Wm. Karnes, $30,084; H. H. Meyer, fresco artist, $375; E. D. Hannan, plumbing contractor, $1,658; Foreman Bros., electrical fittings, $587.30; insurance accounts, miscellaneous, $210; steel book racks, $1,600; Paducah Furniture Mfg. company, furniture, $512.

There were many little incidental expenses such as hauling and cleaning up but the above are the biggest bills paid and the balance of $23.51 is all that is left of the total amount donated.

HOW HE AOTED.

"How did he act when he proposed?" asked Miss Paroline.
"Finest acting I ever saw!" exclaimed Miss Koikash. "For a moment I thought he had forgotten about my money and really loved me."—Indianapolis Sun.

PADUCAHANS MARRY

Mr. Walter Smedley Marries Wealthy Missouri Girl.

Will Reside Near Kansas City—Mr. Will Martin Marries in Louisville.

BOTH WEDDINGS A SURPRISE

News of the marriage of Mr. Walter Smedley, of this city, to Mrs. Ella Larmou, of near Kansas City, Mo., reached the city last night and will come as a surprise to Mr. Smedley's many friends here.

The marriage had been arranged several weeks but had been kept a secret, both parties desiring to have a quiet wedding and surprise their friends. The ceremony was performed in the Victoria hotel in Kansas City Wednesday morning and Mr. and Mrs. Smedley will make their home on a farm near Kansas City.

Mr. Smedley is one of the most popular young men of the city, a brother to Deputy County Clerk William Smedley, and has many friends to congratulate him. He had been acting as manager of his wife's farm for several months but came home about two weeks ago and left again Sunday night to be married. Only the members of the family knew of the arrangements and Mr. Smedley's friends thought he was going back to take charge of the farm again. Mrs. Smedley is a very wealthy woman and owns one of the biggest and best farms in Missouri and is worth in the neighborhood of $100,000. They will make their home on the farm.

News has reached the city of the marriage of Mr. William Martin, formerly of this city and now of Utica, Ind., to Miss Stella Johnson, of Louisville, in Louisville, on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Martin is the son of Mr. J. C. Martin, of West Harrison street, and made his home in this city as cashier of the I. C. road, until a few years ago, when he went to Louisville to reside and a short while since moved to Indiana. He is connected with a big wholesale paint concern. Mr. Martin is one of the most popular young men who ever lived in Paducah and his many friends here will wish him much happiness. His bride is an attractive young woman. The couple will make their home in Utica.

TO THE FINISH.

MITCHELL ADVISES COLORADO MINERS TO STRIKE.

Trinidad, Col., Dec. 4.—With the temperature at the freezing point President Mitchell addressed a crowd of 4,500 in the open air yesterday. Mr. Mitchell was blue from cold at the conclusion. He said in part:

"I can not tell when or how the strike will end, whether in a day, a month or a year; that depends on yourselves. If you are of the same kind as I am you will mine no more coal till you receive fair compensation under proper conditions. I understand the Citizens' Alliance both here and in Denver state that the men have no grievance and are out because they have been intimidated by agitators. This is short sighted policy. Business men profit by higher wages. The companies should obey the law as they ask you to do. Be peaceable and law-abiding and strike, strike, and strike until you win."

Loud, prolonged cheers greeted the speaker's last words and the crowds swarmed around to shake his hand. "The conditions of the strike are unchanged and I see no immediate chance for a settlement," said President Mitchell last night.

TO FIGHT DREYFUS.

NATIONALIST MEMBERS OF CHAMBER OPPOSED TO HIM.

Paris, Dec. 4.—The Nationalist members of the chamber of deputies held a meeting today at which they adopted a resolution criticising the government's action in the revision of the Dreyfus case, saying they regarded it as a political move preliminary to a judicial step, which "only the enemies of the country could make," and affirming that the Nationalists purpose to continue the struggle against Dreyfus.

Mrs. Clint Wilcox is expected shortly from her home in McLeansboro, Ill., to visit her parents.

WOULDN'T WORK

COL. BEN WEILLE BOUGHT HIS GAME AND WAS EXPOSED.

Colonel Ben Weille went hunting the other day and found shooting to be very bad. He was able to bag only a few birds, and not caring to return empty handed he bought up all the birds he could find at the farm houses along the road.
One of the farmer boys, who know Colonel Weille, was suspicious, and decided to turn the joke, thanks to the telephone lines that now reach to all parts of the country, he was able to telephone the news to Colonel Weille's friends in town before he got in, and when he returned with his well filled game bag, he found a number of them eager to find out how many he killed. When he told them and showed the birds to prove it, they gave him the horse laugh in chorus, and then he knew some guileless country boy had given him away over the 'phone, and forever swore off from fabricating about "how many he killed."

CAN "GO" NOW.

The wife of a Virginia clergyman tells her coffee story thus: "One year ago I was a wreck, only able to be up a part of the time and dragging myself around the house.
My skin looked like a dead hickory leaf, no appetite, weight 112 pounds, no energy and I suffered most of the time with most dreadful headaches or nervous chills or spasms and could not bear the least excitement.
"At one time my left hand was drawn to my shoulder and for nine days could not be moved away and I had often laid for six to eight weeks under the care of our best physicians. I had been like this for six years and it seemed a cure could not be effected and I could get only temporary relief.
My case was pronounced nervousness but that was as far as we could get.
"All this time I had been a slave to coffee, thought I could not live without drinking three to five cups a day although my husband used to beg me to give it up and give Postum a trial. But I always put him off with 'O I don't think I'll like it, it will do me no good.'
"He was so persistent I finally decided to try Postum, although I thought the very idea of a good coffee made from cereals was absurd.
"At first I did not like it so very well but soon found it was not boiled long enough to make it good; after a few days the terrible headaches disappeared and I felt so full of energy I was astonished. I grew to love Postum and have used it continually since then and words can never express the good it has done me.
"I never know what it is to have a headache, have not had a nervous attack for eleven months, now weigh 142½, my complexion is clear and my friends say I never looked so well. I do not suffer a day's sickness and can do all my housework. Just think that for six years I spent more than half my time in bed, never able to keep up more than a few days at a time and all that suffering came from coffee.
"My restored health seems to me almost miraculous but I know there is nothing miraculous about it, just common sense from giving up coffee and giving Postum a fair trial and I don't hesitate to tell my friends all about it.
"I have a baby girl two years old who for the past year has used Postum in her bottle instead of milk. She is a large healthy child and if we give her milk she will hand it back and cry for Postum. My husband also has been greatly benefited by Postum and nowadays we never have coffee in our house but you will always find plenty of Postum in the pantry." THEY MAY CAUCUS

They May Caucus For the Election of their Own Officers Tonight.

A meeting of the new members of the Board of Education who succeed the present board will be held, this evening at Prof. May's office on Legal Row. The members-elect very properly decline to discuss the question of a superintendent, as so far as they know officially there is nothing to discuss, and they are not yet members of the board.

Individually, however, some of them say that they do not consider that any election of superintendent has been held, which probably means that should Prof. Clark attempt to serve as superintendent on the strength of his recent election by the present board, the new board would decline to recognize him.

The meeting tonight will be informal, and is for a discussion of matters in general. It is understood that there is a probability that the members will caucus on the officers to be filled by the board. Dr. J. R. Coleman and Mr. Q. W. Morrison are both prominently mentioned for president of the board, and Prof. F. B. May for secretary.

AGAINST PACKET COMPANIES.

EFFORT TO COLLECT FRANCHISE TAXES FOR SIX YEARS BACK.

Attorney Frank Lucas, of the city, auditor's agent, is preparing to file suit against all the packet companies touching Kentucky and Kentucky cities, for back franchise taxes for six years.

Mr. Lucas, according to information received in Paducah, went before the state board of equalization and succeeded in having the board assess the franchises of these companies, and the value, it is understood, will be about $50,000.

He will now have to file suit in the courts against the various companies for the amounts claimed to be due the state for back franchise tax, a valuation of about $300,000 for the six years, making the amount of taxes claimed $18,000.

The packet companies involved, it is understood, include those touching at Paducah, and a vigorous fight will be made.

The auditors' agents of the state have been filing suits for back taxes against most everything, and have in most of the large suits lost in the courts.

Should these steamboat cases be won, it will mean a fee of about $2,000 to Agent Lucas.

COUGHING SPELL CAUSED DEATH.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician, but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901." Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

PRACTICAL EVOLUTION.

From the Chicago Tribune.

General Manager Skinner, of the fat stock show, has several letters from Peter Erhorn, of Orange, Ia., who claims to have developed a new breed of hogs, which is distinguished by the fact that they are more cleanly than any other animals. Mr. Erhorn's hogs insist on having a bath every day, and are unhappy unless they get it. In addition they are so dainty about their habits that they will refuse to step into a mud puddle, and will not touch their food unless it is served in perfectly clean vessels.

Mr. Erhorn declares that he began with the great-grandparents of his present stock by bathing them daily and keeping them in pens and runs which were kept scrupulously clean. At first it was hard work to keep the pigs clean. But gradually they grew to like it. The next generation were naturally more cleanly and took their baths with less reluctance. Now the descendants of the original stock have reached the point where they grunt with impatience for their baths every morning. Mr. Erhorn expects to exhibit a herd which will disprove forever the truth of the old saying, "as dirty as a pig."

BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry O. Stearns, Druggist, Shullsburg, Wisconsin, writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle, they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

This includes in the journey a trip through the charming "Land of the Sky" country, in Western North Carolina, and also the beautiful "Sapphire Country," with its high altitude lakes and magnificent hunting and fishing grounds. Stop overs allowed.

The SKY PILOT

By RALPH CONNOR

"It is quite evident that the opinion of the meeting is adverse to any attempt to load the community with a debt of $1,000," and he proceeded with a very complete statement of the many and various objections to any attempt at building a church this year. The people were very few, they were dispersed over a large area, they were not interested sufficiently, they were all spending money and making little in return; he supposed therefore that the meeting might adjourn.

Robbie sat silent and expressionless in spite of his little wife's anxious whispers and nudges. The Pilot looked the picture of woe and was on the point of bursting forth when the meeting was adjourned.

"Say, boys! They hadn't much stuck on their shop, huh?" The low, drawling voice was perfectly distinct and arresting.

"Hain't got no use for it secondly," was the answer from the dark corner. "Old Scotchie takes his religion out in prayin', I guess," drawled in Bill, "but wants to sponge for his plant."

This reference to Robbie's proposal to use the school moved the youngsters to uttering and made the little Scotchman squirm, for he prided himself upon his independence.

"There ain't $700 in the hull banked outfit," This was a stranger's voice, and again Robbie squirmed, for he rather prided himself also on his ability to pay his way.

"Order, order!" cried the chairman.

"Old Windling there don't see any show for swipin' the collection with Scotchie round," said Bill, with a following ripple of quiet laughter, for Williams' reputation was none too secure.

Robbie was in a most uncomfortable state of mind. So unusually stirred was he that for the first time in his history he made a motion.

"I move we adjourn, Mr. Chairman," he said in a voice which actually vibrated with emotion.

"Different here! Eh, boys?" drawled Bill.

"You bet!" said Bill, in huge delight.

"The meetin' ain't out yet."

"Ye can hild till mornin'!" said Robbie angrily. "A'm gaen hame," beginning to put on his coat.

"Seems as if he order give the pass-word," drawled Bill.

"Right you are, partner," said Bill, springing to the door and waiting in delighted expectation for his friend's lead.

Robbie looked at the door, then at his wife, hesitated a moment, I have no doubt wishing her home. Then Bill stood up and began to speak.

"Mr. Chairman, I hain't been called on for any remarks."

"An' I didn't feel as if this war hardly my game, though the Pilot ain't much about invitin' a feller on Sunday afternoon. But them as runs the shop don't seem to want us fellers round too much."

Robbie was gazing keenly at Bill, and here shook his head, muttering angrily: "Hoots, nonsense! Ye're welcome enough."

"But," went on Bill slowly, "I guess I've been on the wrong track. I've been a-cherishin' the opinion" ("Hear, hear!" yelled his admirers), "cherishin' the opinion," repeated Bill, "that these fellers," pointing to Robbie, "was stuck on religion, which I ain't much myself, and really concerned about the blocking of the devil, which the Pilot says can't be did without a regular gospel factory. Of course, it ain't any bizuals of mine, but if us fellers was really set on anythin' condoochin'."

"Hear, hear!" yelled Bill in ecstasy.

"Condoochin'," repeated Bill slowly and with relish, "to the good of the Order" ("Bill was a brotherhood man), "I believe I know what $500 mebbe end per'aps be got."

"Of course, I ain't no bettin' man," went on Bill hesitatingly, "as a regular thing, but I'd gaudle a few jist here on this plant; if the boys was stuck on anythin' costin' about $700, it seems to me likely they'd git it in about two days, per'aps."

Here Robbie granted out an "aye" of such fullness of contemptuous unbelief that Bill paused, and, looking over Robbie's head, he drawled out, even more slowly and mildly:

"I ain't much given to bettin', as I remarked before, but if a man shakes money at me on that proposition I'd accommodate him to a limited extent."

"Hear, hear! Bully boy!" yelled Bill again from the door. "Not bettin' too bold, I cherish the opinion" [again yells of approval from the corner] "that even for this here gospel plant, seidin' the Pilot's rather set on to it, I believe the boys could find $500 inside of a month, if perhaps these fellers end wiggle the rest out of their pants."

Then Robbie was in great wrath, and, stung by the taunting, drawling voice beyond all self command, he broke out suddenly:

"Ye'll no can mak that guld, I doot."

"D'yo mean I ain't prepared to back it up?"

"Aye," said Robbie grimly. "Tain't likely I'll be called on. I guess $500 is safe enough," drawled Bill, cunningly drawing him on. Then Robbie bit.

"Oo aye!" said he in a voice of quiet contempt. "The two hummer will be here and 'twall wait ye long enough, I'm warrant ye."

Then Bill called him.

"I hain't got my card case on my person," he said with a slight grin.

"But," Bill proceeded, recovering himself and with increasing snavity, "if some gentleman would mark down the date of the almanac I cherish the opinion" [cheers from the corner] "that in one month from today there will be $500 lookin' round for $200 on that there desk, mebbe, or p'raps you would incline to two fifty," he drawled in his most winning tone to Robbie, who was growing more impatient every moment.

"Nea matter tae me. Ye're haverin' like a daff bon, ony way."

"You will make a fiend of this slight transaction, boys, and perhaps the schoolmaster will write it down," said Bill.

It was all carefully taken down, and amid much enthusiastic confusion the ranchers and their gang carried Bill off to old Latour's, while Robbie, in deep wrath but in four silence, went off through the dark, with his little wife following some paces behind him.

His chief grievance, however, was against the chairman for "alkoin' sic a disorderly pack o' loons tae disturb respectable fowk," for he could not hide the fact that he had been made to break through his accustomed defense line of immovable silence.

But when he understood, some days later, that Bill was taking steps to back up his offer and had been heard to declare that "he'd make them pious ducks take water if he had to put up a year's pay," Robbie went quietly to work to make good his part of the bargain, for his Scotch pride would not suffer him to refuse a challenge from such a quarter.

CHAPTER XV.

BILL'S PARTNER.

THE next day every one was talking of Bill's blinding the church people, and there was much quiet chuckling over the discomfiture of Robbie Muir and his party.

The Pilot was equally distressed and bewildered, for Bill's conduct, so very unusual, had only one explanation—the usual one for my folly in that country.

"I wish he had waited till after the meeting to go to Latour's. He spoiled the last chance I had. There's no use now," he said sadly.

"But he may do something," I suggested.

"Oh, hiddle!" said the Pilot contemptuously. "He was only giving Muir a song and dance," as he would say. "The whole thing is off."

But when I told Gwen the story of the night's proceedings she went into raptures over Bill's grave speech and his success in drawing the canny Scotchman.

"Oh, lovely! Dear old Bill and his 'cherished opinion'! Isn't he just lovely? Now he'll do something."

"Who? Bill?"

"No; that stupid Scotchie." This was her name for the immovable Robbie.

"Not he, I'm afraid. Of course Bill was just blinding him. But it was good sport."

"Oh, lovely! I knew he'd do something."

"Who? Scotchie?" I asked, for her pronouns were perplexing.

"No," she cried. "Bill! He promised he would, you know," she added.

"So you were at the bottom of it," I said, amazed.

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" she kept crying, shrieking with laughter over Bill's cherishing opinions and desires. "I shall be ill. Dear old Bill! He said he'd try to get a move on to him."

Before I left that day Bill himself came to the Old Thinner's ranch, inquiring in a casual way if the loss was in.

"Oh, Bill!" called out Gwen. "Come in here at once. I want you."

After some delay and some shuffling with hat and spurs Bill lounged in and set his back form upon the extreme end of a bench at the door, trying to look unconcerned as he remarked: "Glittin' cold. Shouldn't wonder if we'd have a little snow."

Bill swung awkwardly across the room toward the bed, and, taking Gwen's hand, he shook it up and down and hurriedly said:

"Fine day, ma'am; hope I see you quite well."

"No, you don't," cried Gwen, laughing immoderately, but keeping hold of Bill's hand, to his great confusion. "I'm not well a bit, but I'm a great deal better since hearing of your meeting, Bill."

To this Bill made no reply, being entirely engrossed in getting his hand, bony, brown hand out of the grasp of the white, clinging fingers.

IN THE LOCAL COURTS

Judge Sanders Dismisses the Hack Warrants.

Will Suggest a New Hack Ordinance
—Negro Gets Five Months for Coal Stealing.

POLICE COURT.

Judge D. L. Sanders, judge of the police court, this morning rendered an important decision in regard to the operation of hacks and other public vehicles. The decision was made in action brought against the Palmer Transfer company charged with obstructing the street at 11th and Broadway by permitting its drivers to stand their hacks in the street while waiting for trains.

"I have looked this matter up and am thoroughly acquainted with all provisions of the law regarding it," Judge Sanders stated this morning, "and find it left entirely to the discretion of the court whether or not a hack stands too long in one place. Now I think 15 minutes is long enough for any cabman to discharge or take on passengers and will dismiss this case against the transfer company conditionally, that the drivers be instructed not to consume any longer than 15 minutes hereafter, and if they do will be subject to prosecution."

This means that all cabmen will "have to hurry" and Judge Sanders is determined to put a stop to unnecessary street blockades by cabmen. The decision of Judge Sanders will be received with general satisfaction.

Rufus Jones, colored, whom Ed Dobson had arrested for the alleged flourishing of a pistol and also for carrying a pistol on his person concealed, was discharged this morning in police court and as a result Dobson will probably have to answer to the charge of false swearing.

Dobson made affidavit that Jones presented a pistol at him and Jones proved that he didn't. This morning after court Jones appeared before Judge Sanders and wanted to swear out a warrant against Dobson for perjury and was referred to County Attorney Eugene Graves. It is more than probable that Dobson will be warranted.

Gertrude Wood, colored, was fined $5 and costs for operating a boarding house without a license.

James Wyatt, white, was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness.

Will McDonald, colored, the negro charged with stealing a wagon load of coal, was tried and sentenced to five months in jail, the heaviest sentence, perhaps ever imposed here for coal stealing.

CIRCUIT COURT.

A supplementary judgment was filed in the case of Mose Gunn against O. A. Isbell and others. The judgment orders a distribution.

The case of Rebecca Webb and others against O. A. Isbell was stricken from the docket.

The defendants' motion for a new trial in the case of Randolph administrator of Bell, against the Paducah Railway and Light company was overruled. An appeal will be taken.

The case of Caldwell against Brooks was dismissed and settled.
